OCS Worldwide unveils UK based international mail processing facilities with New Zealand Post

OCS Worldwide (OCS), the international mail and parcel delivery specialist, is delighted to announce the opening of two international mail processing centres (IMPCs) with New Zealand Post in the United Kingdom.

OCS has been working in partnership with New Zealand Post on commercial parcel exports from the United Kingdom, since 2015. The co-operation with one of the world's leading international post offices has provided OCS clients with a range of value-added and high quality solutions for commercial parcel delivery in New Zealand.

The launch of the mail processing facilities or ETOE (extraterritorial office of exchange) operations with New Zealand Post will enable OCS's ecommerce clients to reach international markets by accessing New Zealand Post's extensive global distribution network, directly from the UK.

This serves OCS's desire to fulfil demand in the ecommerce market for flexible tailored solutions that meet the diversity of delivery options required by clients and their customers.

New Zealand Post provides key advantages to OCS's ecommerce clients, including highly competitive postage rates to many worldwide destinations and simple IT integration that allows access to a range of ecommerce solutions including Tracked or Untracked delivery and Returns options. This is supported by fast dispatch with 24/7 processing and export from OCS's Heathrow facility.

OCS's Heathrow facility will begin processing mail and parcels through the ETOE later this month, and this will extend to OCS's Midlands hub in Coventry, in the Spring.

Tim Jones, Managing Director of OCS Worldwide, said:

"This represents a very exciting milestone in our evolution at OCS. Our ecommerce business is growing and having access to the International Postal system allows us a greater level of visibility and control over our post than we have previously had and this will be of huge benefit to our customers. It has become quite apparent in recent years that we share many cultural synergies with our friends at New Zealand Post. They are an ambitious and responsive partner with a strong focus on speed, reliability, quality, transparency and sustainable growth and we feel privileged to be working with them in this way."

Rachael Manson, Market Development Director (Asia & Europe) of New Zealand Post, said:

"New Zealand Post is thrilled to be embarking on this journey with OCS. A key theme within our strategic direction is to be "the best partner for online shopping" and the ongoing expansion of our operating hubs is critical to this success. We see the ability to utilise our postal expertise alongside a commercial operator such as OCS to bring UK based customers a broader set of delivery options for their parcel movements, as well as supporting our existing hub operations in New Zealand, Australia and Singapore."
